Week of Oct. 18-22

Dear Families,

Another week has flown by while your children participated in many exciting activities. They have learned about all the parts of the apple, washed apples, made paper apples for our fall tree, glued up all the parts and counted how many seeds they put in their own apple. Science, math and art in one project.

We read “Ten Apples Up On Top” by Dr. Seus, a funny story that engages the children in counting up to 10. In addition, they have cut apples to make a delicious apple sauce that was a very appreciated snack; many very successful activities in this timely unit.

During Gardening with Chlesea the kids planted bulbs that will bloom into daffodils in early Spring.

On Tuesday Martha inaugurated the “Science Table” where children can observe different items related to our curriculum using magnifying glasses.

At Chess time McKenna introduced the second king named King Shaky. He lives in a castle made of pillows also moves one step at a time, just like King Chomper.

On Friday we had a big birthday celebration for Eza who turned 3 earlier this month. Martha read "It's My Birthday" by Helen Oxenbury, a book where the birthday boy makes a cake with the help of his animal friends. The children act out the characters wearing animal masks. The children enjoy the extra attention (and everyone enjoys the special snack brought in for them. Remember to let the teachers know if you want to send something in when it is your child's special day so we can plan the day.

Please also remember to let us know when your child is going to be absent. We like to know where everyone is.
